Police, Firemen Get 10 Percent Wage Increase

Action Taken By City Council; Electric Rates Approved

City council Tuesday night approved the granting of 10 per cent salary increases to the 20 members of the police and fire departments and to two other specific city employees.

The raise which will go into effect after the necessary legislation designating a time has been passed, grants the firemen and police an increase of 10 per cent nearest to the even dollar on their present monthly salaries.

The two departments requested the increase on Sept. 5. Police and firemen are currently being paid $253 per month. The new raise will increase wages to $278.

The last pay raise for the two departments was granted about two years ago.

Other Raises
Other salary increases of approximately 10 per cent approved by the solons were to Walter Worman city electrician from his present $248 a month to $270, and clerk Robert Rheutan, from $230 to $253.

Fred Koenreich, chairman of council's finance committee, reported that the rates of the balance of city employees, who requested a 10 per cent increase on Oct. 3, will be determined after an evaluation has been made of all the jobs by the firm of Edwards & Barnes of Akron. The evaluation, he said, would take about two months to complete, after which the finance committee will study their suggestions of raises or decreases.

"One reason that the firemen and police were granted a raise at this time," Koenreich said, "is that we feel it is difficult to evaluate these two jobs because of their peculiar nature."

Electric Rates to Rise
The ordinance granting the Ohio Edison Co. to increase their electricity rates to domestic and commercial consumers was given its third and final reading. The new rates will go into effect 30 days after acceptance of the ordinance by the light firm.

Another ordinance was passed granting the water works department the right to purchase certain properties for the rights-of-way in the laying of the 20-inch pipeline from the proposed low-lift pump station to the present reservoir. The cost of the properties is not to exceed $4,200.

A third ordinance passed was the appropriation of $1,675.50 for the purchase of new scales to conduct vehicular weighing-in parties.

Rotary Given Facts On Water Project

The purity, quality and clarity of Salem's water upon completion of the new $1,350,000 water expansion project was the subject of a talk by B. V. Bevier, city water superintendent, at a Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon at the Memorial building.

He said three dams will be built, with one capable of holding 6,000,000 gallons of water. A detergent which will be applied to prevent rust also will abolish bathtub rings, he related.

More than $600,000 in contracts have been assigned to date. He said the contractors and the department have, received excellent cooperation from residents.

Floyd McKee introduced Mr. Bevier.

Salem Rotarians received an invitation to attend the Youngstown Rotary meeting Nov. 27 when William Lovejoy of Chicago, Rotary International officer, will speak.

Personal Taxes Due Saturday In County

County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge today reminded Columbiana county taxpayers that the final day for payment of personal taxes without a penalty is Saturday, Nov. 25.

Since the court house will be closed on Thanksgiving day and Saturday afternoon, he stated that only Friday and Saturday morning remains for payment of taxes.

Union Thanksgiving Service To Be Held At 9:30 Tomorrow

The Salem Ministerial association has completed plans for the annual Community Thanksgiving service at 9:30 a. m. Thursday in the First Methodist church.

Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the First Friends church and vice president of the association, will preach the sermon, using for his theme, "It Is Good To Give Thanks."

Rev. Richard C. Swogger, pastor of the Methodist church, will preside. His numbers are: Chorale prelude, "To Thee, Lord Jesus, Thanks We Give." "Now Thank We All Our God" and "Invocation." He will play "The Heavens Are Telling" for the postlude.

Thomas E. Crothers, choir director at the Methodist church, has arranged an anthem, "Onward, Ye People!" It will be sung by a High School choral group.

Turnpike Survey To Be Continued

The governor told two engineering firms he felt sure they would be paid when the Ohio supreme court rules on their claims. Joseph Kinneary, assistant attorney general, said he thought the court would rule in favor of the engineers.

Gov. Lausche asked the firms in effect to ignore State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's refusal to pay their claims of $55,000. The auditor says he won't pay out any money for the turnpike surveys until the Ohio Supreme Court rules on constitutionality of the turnpike act.

Attends Meeting
The governor sat in on a meeting of the turnpike commission yesterday. He said he attended because he wanted to "make sure that they are moving forward with the maximum dispatch possible under existing circumstances."

Only a few days ago Commission Chairman James W. Shockey attacked what he called Ferguson's "senseless delay" of the turnpike.

Gov. Lausche told the commission he felt the people of Ohio want the proposed super-highway across northern Ohio completed. And he promised his full support.

Referring to the two engineering firms, the governor said: "I urge you to go forward to the utmost extent that you possibly can to the extent of the present rather negligible uncertainty of what the (supreme court's) result will be."

Authorizes Payment
Then he disclosed that he even considered calling a special session of the legislature so that the engineers could get paid. But he reread the turnpike act and concluded it clearly authorized hiring of the engineers.

Lawrence S. Waterbury, representative of Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and MacDonald, said his engineering firm would "take a chance" on getting paid. This firm was hired to make traffic and revenue studies. Both firms said previously they would do no more work until they got paid.

The J. E. Greiner Co., hired to make engineering surveys, was not represented at the meeting. Both firms have sought mandamus actions in the Ohio Supreme Court, asking that Ferguson be compelled to pay their claims. The court is not expected to rule on the actions until next year.

Bombers Strike At N. Korean Staging Bases

MacArthur Says U. N. Forces In General Advance Along Front

SEOUL, Nov. 22—(AP)—B-29 bombers blasted Communist staging bases in northeast Korea today as infantry patrols probed along the entire front to find where the Reds plan to make a stand.

Waves of Superforts rained 140,000 pounds of high explosives on the Musan border area while other B-29s struck the port of Chongjin, 45 miles to the southeast. It was the second strike in a week at Musan.

North Koreans are reported reorganizing and Chinese Reds concentrating at Musan to block the United Nations march toward the Soviet Siberian border.

Musan is 80 miles northeast of Hyesanjin, where U. S. Seventh division troops raised the U. N. blue and white flag Tuesday on the Yalu river opposite Red Manchuria. Other Seventh Division infantrymen went hunting for a fight with two Communist battalions reported to be holed up 10 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

Reports Advance
General MacArthur's war summary in Tokyo reported:

"United Nations forces continued to advance generally along the entire Korean battle front yesterday."

Here's the way the front looked from east to west:

East coast—eight inch guns of the U. S. Cruiser St. Paul paved the way for the Republic of Korea (ROK) Capital Division pursuing "a retreating disorganized enemy" toward Siberia.

South Koreans were eight miles south of Chongjin, port city 55 miles from the Soviet border where the Reds apparently were preparing to make a stand. B-29s bombed Chongjin after Marine airmen ran into heavy anti-aircraft fire there.

Manchurian border — The Seventh Division's 17th regimental combat team dug in around Hyesanjin. It reported no sign of enemy activity on either side of the 100-year wide Yalu river which divides Korea from Red China's Manchuria.

Seek 2 Battalions
Other Seventh division elements, 15 miles to the south, struggled with faulty maps and bad roads in an effort to find and wipe out two Communist battalions. The Reds were in Samsu, 10 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

Central mountains — First division Marines, seeking to envelop Chongjin reservoir, ran into heavy small arms fire near Sinhang, seven miles up the east side of the reservoir. Red concentrations were reported nearby.

Northwest front — The ROK Eighth division occupied Yongwon, and with other divisions of the ROK Second corps established a line running five to six miles north of Tokchon. Chinese Communists were building a series of strong defenses six to eleven miles north, just as they were on the rest of the northwest front manned by the U. S. First Corps.

Bomber Crash Fatal To 2; Ten Escape

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 22—(AP)—A giant B-36 bomber crashed today about 30 miles southwest of Fort Worth.

First reports were that ten men bailed from the craft, which is the world's largest land-based bomber. At least two men were reported dead. The B-36 usually carries a crew of 15.

The six engine craft fell about 4½ hours after taking off from Carswell air force base here, home of the Eighth air force.

Reckless Driver Fined After Two-Car Mishap

William R. Mackall, 55, of R. D. 7, Negley, was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Erwood Calvin of Columbiana on a reckless driving charge following a two-car accident at 3:50 p. m. Tuesday on Route 46, near New Waterford. No one was hurt.

State patrolmen said the car operated by Tarance McIliduff, 34, of R. D. 2, Rogers had stopped for a school bus when Mackall ran into the rear of his car.

No one was injured but both cars were heavily damaged in a collision at 11 p. m. Tuesday on Route 14, a half-mile north of Salem, when Charles R. Sheets, 21, of R. D. 3, Angola, Ind., started to pass the car driven by George Mrugala, 26, of R. D. 4, Salem as Mrugala attempted to make a left turn.

State To Cut Off Free Serum

Salem Not Eligible, Health Dept. Warns

The state health department no longer will furnish free vaccine and antitoxin for immunization of Salem's children against smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough, it was reported to city council Tuesday night in a communication from Dr. R. T. Holzbach, head of the city health department.

"If the local health department is to render the same service to the people of Salem as it has in the past," the communication read, "it will be necessary to have an increase of approximately $200 in fund for medical supplies for the ensuing year."

The letter stated that the state health department ruled Salem as "not qualified for state aid."

Curtis H. Vaughan, president of council, referred the matter to the finance committee to inquire why Salem is not qualified to receive state aid for the medicants.

Water Taps Fees Set

A general agreement was reached by members of council's water committee and the water commission and department on the assessment of water taps and installations, Fred Koenreich, chairman of the committee, reported.

The groups decided to assess for the first tap on a private or city main. If the city puts in a line, however, no charge will be made, and a fee will be charged for material only for a curb box. No

Son Mistakes Father For Deer, Kills Him

CANTERBURY, N. B., Nov. 22—(UP)—Roy Wreede, a vacationer from Waynesville, O., was shot and killed by his 18-year-old son, Edison, who mistook him for a deer, police said today.

Wreede died during a hunting trip on which he and his son were accompanied by two guides four miles west of Skiff lake.

500 Town Hall Patrons Learn Of S. Africa

The Salem Town Hall series was enriched last night when Margaret Bourke-White, Life magazine photographer, drew from a wealth of experiences to bring an important message wrapped up in a group of entertaining personal accounts.

Attorney Alfred Fitch introduced the speaker to an audience of about 500 persons at the high school auditorium. She first recounted her conversation with Gandhi, a few hours before he was assassinated.

Much of her lecture was devoted to factual condemnation of the conditions under which the natives of South Africa must live. She was quick to point out that racial discrimination in the United States leaves much to be desired. However, white supremacy in the southern part of the dark continent, amounts to virtual slavery of the natives.

She discussed her working problems in taking pictures two miles under Johannesburg in honeycombed gold mines. Her descriptive regulations of the gold and diamond mines reminded her attentive audience of concentration camp conditions.

Her enterprising and finally successful attempts to complete a picture assignment on Ruth, the white queen of Bechuanaland, were colorfully told. The "queen," an English clerk who had married a Negro tribe prince, after weeks of urging consented to be photographed.

The next Town Hall program will be held Jan. 11 when journalist and author Vincent Sheehan will speak.

Girl, 9, Hurt In Road Mishap

Lenora Rowe Fourth Victim In Family

Fate struck its fourth heavy blow in less than a month on the family of Mrs. Oscar Rowe of near Salineville when Lenora Rowe, age nine, received a possible fractured skull in an accident at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday on Route 164, three miles south of Lisbon.

She was riding in a horse-drawn buggy driven by Lawrence Green, 32, of R. D. 1, Lisbon, when the car operated by John E. Giovannelli, 28, of Summitville approached from the rear and failed to see the unlit buggy until he was almost on top of it. He swung to the center of the road and collided almost head-on with the car driven by Arthur E. Biles of Warren.

Giovannelli sideswiped the buggy and Lenora was thrown from the vehicle. Lenora is in only fair condition today at City Hospital. No others were injured.

On Nov. 4 her father was killed and sister, Eileen, 11, injured in an auto accident near Carrollton. Five days earlier a two-year old member of the family, which includes seven children, was discharged from the hospital after having been seriously ill of a tetanus infection.

Their home was badly damaged by fire a short time before Mr. Rowe was killed.

Wreckage On Mountain Top Is Reported

Rescuers Trudge To Scene; 8 Children Among Passengers

MORAN, Wyo., Nov. 22—(AP)—Four skilled mountaineers started at daybreak climbing cloud-shrouded Mount Moran in search of a missionary plane that disappeared near the peak last night with 21 persons aboard.

Forest Ranger Blake Van De Water and three ski-shod alpinists started trudging through snow toward the spot where watchers last night saw a huge fire. Heavy clouds cloaked the scene this morning. Winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour whipped the area but there was no snow fall. The temperature is around freezing.

Only faint hope was held by forest service officials that there were any survivors if the plane crashed and burned on the mountain. The four mountaineers carried radio and light signaling equipment but it was expected to take them six to eight hours to reach the scene.

Was on Long Flight
A resort owner said he saw a burning fuselage in the flames far above the timberline on the precipitous east face of the mountain. When the fire subsided, he could see nothing resembling a campfire.

The missing plane was bound from Chico, Calif., to Billings, Mont. Owned by the New Tribes mission, a religious organization, it was on the first leg of a flight to South America.

Passengers included two young mothers with their children, widowed in a crash of another mission-owned plane in Venezuela last June which killed 15. Also aboard was Dr. Paul W. Flemings of Chico, mission director.

The new, twin-engine DC-3 last reported by radio over Idaho Falls, Idaho, at 3:48. That was 50 miles west of here. The plane was due in Billings at 6:30.

It was about that time that residents of this picturesque area 25 miles south of Yellowstone park heard a plane overhead. It was far off usual air lines. And it was flying west, just opposite the direction the California plane should have been headed. There was speculation it was lost and hunting landmarks.

Fire Is Reported

Half an hour later, acting Teton park superintendent Paul A. Judge said a fire was reported about 1,000 feet from the top of Mount Moran.

Clarence Harris, an owner of Signal Mountain lodge, eight miles across Jackson lake from the mountain, took out a pair of powerful field glasses.

"I saw what looked like a burning fuselage way up there in the snow," he said. "I don't think anybody could be alive."

One watcher reported what looked like a flare from the area. Harris said that "it looked to me more like a piece of burning

Real Estate Values Rise

Mahoning County Has $5,746,770 Increase

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22—(AP)—Medina county's real property value climbed 59 per cent between 1949 and the time of a complete reappraisal this year, Ohio's board of tax appeals reported yesterday.

The board approved abstracts of evaluation of real property for 15 counties—with Medina county showing the greatest increase.

The county's evaluation for 1950 was $58,730,950 compared to a 1949 evaluation of $36,943,610.

Under state law, reappraisal of all real property in each county is required every six years. Work is still under way on abstracts for the remainder of Ohio's 88 counties.

At Canton, Stark county auditor Joe Yoder announced that real estate values there increased 18.87 per cent in six years from $294,153,930 in 1943 to $390,163,630 at present.

Abstracts approved by the board, and a comparison with the 1949 evaluation, include (1950 evaluations are shown first):

Licking, $69,831,960, $68,739,220; Delaware, $29,678,360, $29,280,370; Auglaize, $40,134,810, $39,813,380; Richland, $114,688,440, $93,609,730; Clinton, $31,513,640, $31,472,300; Darke, $51,389,120, $50,330,550; Williams, $37,876,200, $37,382,050; Pike, $7,996,600, $7,960,500.

State Health Setup Is Found Lacking

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22—(AP)—The Ohio committee on public health issued a report today saying Ohio has too many separate health departments while not enough money is appropriated for local public health.

The committee is made up of 12 state-wide organizations. It has been studying public health services in Ohio and has offered suggestions for improvement of health services.

Among committee findings was one asserting many of the 159 Ohio health departments serve areas too small to maintain efficient public health service. The committee said an area should have enough people and enough money to support a complete public health program.

Three alternative suggestions were offered toward a solution. Two of these involve changes in legislation while a third suggests voluntary combinations of health departments.

The committee found Ohio spends 48 cents a person a year for local public health, against a $1.50 minimum recommended by the American Public Health Association. The committee report suggests money be raised locally either by a special levy or by an appropriation from the county general fund.

The National Geographic Society says many stories of sea monsters have been traced to floating driftwood or masses of sea weed.

Two Gold Smugglers Seized In New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—(AP)—Two men accused by federal agents of trying to get a fortune in black market gold out of the country by air are free today on bond.

"I believe we have found the trail of an international gold-smuggling ring," United States Attorney Frank J. Parker said in Brooklyn after their arrest.

The two, Manfred Fliegel, 25, of New York, and Charles H. Manning, 37, of Sydney, Australia, were arrested last Friday as they were about to board a plane leaving La Guardia field for India.

Agents said they had 150 pounds of gold cleverly hidden in the false bottoms of shoes or in the false sides of luggage.

The gold's worth on the Indian black market was estimated at up to $240,000. The gold, seized by the government, has a face value of $84,000 here.

Paraguay is about the size of California.

Production Workers Paychecks Show Gain

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—America's 13,100,000 production workers earned an average of $61.98 a week for 41.4 hours of labor during October.

This was reported today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics which said the average weekly paycheck was $1.30 more than during September. The bureau also reported the work week of the average production man was about 25 minutes longer.

The government report attributed the increases to "more overtime and increased wage rates."

airlines appear to be headed for a record passenger-carrying year up about one-fifth from 1949.

Data compiled yesterday from records of the air transport association, representing the scheduled carriers, indicate a total volume for this year of 7,754,107,000 passenger miles. The figure represents the total distance traveled by individual fare-paying passengers.

Such a total would represent the second largest annual increase on record, surpassed only by the 77 per cent jump in the first postwar year.

18 Dead After Rail Collision

Canadian Troop Train Hits Other Head-On

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 22—(AP)—Rescue teams dug today for missing victims in the splintered wreckage of two trains which crashed head-on yesterday 312 miles west of Edmonton. Eighteen persons—including 14 Korea-bound Canadian soldiers—were believed dead, and 53 others were injured.

The bodies of 12 soldiers have been recovered, but searchers still probed beneath the debris for two other soldiers and four trainmen—the engineer and firemen aboard both locomotives. Most of the injured were soldiers. Four of them were railway employees.

Twenty-two of the injured were reported in a serious condition. One train, carrying 340 officers and men, was bound for Fort Lewis, Wash., where 10,000 Canadian soldiers will be trained to fight with United Nations forces in Korea.

The troop train, running slightly behind schedule, and a transcontinental limited collided on a mountain curve on the main line of the Canadian National Railways. They were near a siding at Canoe River, British Columbia, where they were scheduled to pass.

The crash occurred in a lonely, snow-covered stretch of country 83 miles west of Jasper, Alta.

Federal Council Of Churches Denounced

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22—(AP)—Dr. W. O. H. Garman, president of the American Council of Churches, has declared a "fight to the finish" against "near Communism" which he says is entrenched in another national interdenominational group.

Dr. Garman of Wilkesburg, Pa. spoke yesterday at the opening here of his council's ninth annual meeting. He declared the American council is the "open avowed foe of the unbelief, apostasy, unscriptural pacifism, totalitarianism and near Communism entrenched in the Federal Council of Churches and its constituent denominations."

The council represents 15 fundamentalist or "Bible centered" denominations, most of which have broken away from the major denominations represented by the Federal Council.

Navy Rocket Speeds 3,600 MPH In Test

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—A Navy Viking rocket reached a speed of 3,600 miles an hour yesterday in climbing 107 miles into the upper atmosphere over New Mexico.

The Viking, 50 feet long and weighing 5½ tons, beat by one mile the previous altitude record for an American-made single stage missile.

However, a German V-2, fired at White Sands, N. Mex., climbed 114 miles and an American "wac corporal" it released at the top of its flight has been officially recorded as attaining a height of more than 250 miles.

5-Power Conference Sought By Commies

WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 22—(AP)—The Russian-supported World Peace Congress today called for a five-power conference, including Communist China, to ease world tension.

The Congress began voting on the manifesto and other resolutions by tedious written ballot, and the applause with which the resolutions were received left no doubt of their adoption.

The Congress also formulated a Soviet-style definition of aggression and deplored current fighting in Korea and Indo-China.

The Congress demanded an end to military operations in Korea and the appointment of an international court "to examine in particular the responsibility of Gen. MacArthur."

GUILTY OF MURDER

Franklin County Man Heads Senate

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22—(AP)—Republican state senators yesterday chose Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott of Franklin county as senate majority leader in Ohio's 99th general assembly.

The Republican senators-elect—who have a 26-7 edge over the Democrats in the new senate—were unanimous in choosing Walcott during a GOP caucus session.

They also picked him for the post of president pro tem of the new senate. His election will take place at the first day's session Jan. 1.

Republican house members will caucus Dec. 4 to select a speaker, floor leader and clerk.

Nation's Families Live Beyond Income

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—More than a third of the nation's families spent more than they took in last year, managing to get by chiefly on credit, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

Most of them were in lower income brackets, the board said, adding that families in the top tenth in income piled up more savings than all other families put together.

Army Calls For More Volunteer Nurses

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—The Army has issued a second call for volunteer nurses and women medical specialists to meet expanded needs.

It called yesterday for 3,000 nurses and 250 women medical workers through next June 30.

A first call for 650 women, issued Aug. 9, brought in 477 nurses and 17 specialists.

Girl Flies 4,555 Miles To Marry G. I.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22—(AP)—Irene Whipple plans to leave here Friday and fly 4,555 miles to Honolulu for her marriage to Robert W. Fuller, a quartermaster in the Navy.

When they were engaged last August Fuller had hoped to be back by Christmas on a furlough. The Korean war and a tense international situation keeps him aboard a destroyer at Pearl Harbor.

So his fiancée, an attractive blonde graduate of Portsmouth High school, is going to go to him. After a honeymoon she will return to her Cleveland job in a hotel catering department.

Fuller is the son of Mrs. Mable Bodey of Ingleside, Calif., and Robert W. Fuller of East Cleveland.

FOR HIGH COMPRESSION... IT'S THE "ROCKET"!

Ever since Oldsmobile introduced the "Rocket" Engine two years ago, seems like everybody claims "high-compression"—but nobody explains it. The phrase simply means squeezing the gasoline into a smaller space before exploding it. This gets more power out of the same amount of fuel. But the engine must be designed for high-compression all the way through to assure smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance. The "Rocket" is 100% high-compression—from the crankshaft out. And the lowest-priced "Rocket" Engine car is Oldsmobile's "88." Makes good sense to try it soon—doesn't it?

Important Discovery

FIVE OF the union leaders who were politically active in the 1950 campaign are in significant agreement about one thing that happened.

Interviewed by U.S. News & World Report, they said in separate statements that the size of the vote was a factor.

What they could not be expected to say was that heavy registration and unusually heavy participation by people who stayed away from the polls in 1948 kept the labor unions from gaining another cheap victory.

This began to be apparent during the campaign. Credit for heavy registration had been cleaned by the labor unions. But it became evident as election day approached that the unions had registered most of their voters in 1948; the net increase in 1950 registration was more than they could account for.

They continued to say a heavy vote would be in their favor, and they really believed it. They knew that if they could get their voters to the polls while the opposition was making a half-hearted attempt, they would win by default. That was their trade secret in 1948. But they made two miscalculations.

1. Not all their voters took orders from the union bosses in 1950.

2. The opposition vote was heavy enough to offset the intensive political activity of the unionists.

That was an important discovery. The five union leaders who agree it helped to upset their political apple carts are James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of C.I.O.; William Green, president of the A.F.L.; George M. Harrison, president of A.F.L. Railway Clerks; Jock Kroll, director of C.I.O.-P.A.C., and Joseph D. Keenan, director of labor's League for Political Education.

Something To Settle

ACCORDING to the American custom of never worrying about the leak in the roof until it rains, no further attention will be given to strike threats in the telephone industry until the next one materializes.

In the case of Western Electrical Workers, who have just settled for a 15-month contract, that will be a year from next February. But there will be something to settle in the meantime—something for Congress to settle.

Western Electric employees have taken the position in collective bargaining that they are dealing with the telephone system of the United States. The fact is they are dealing with Western Electric, an organization separate from the Bell system as a whole. Western Electric manufactures and installs telephone equipment; it is not a service organization.

There are strict federal laws regulating interstate business combinations. Yet, union policy in the telephone business is to challenge employers to stay within the law by trying to penalize them for being within the law. In the recent strike against Western Electric, there was a studied attempt by strikers to belittle the courts for protecting the rights of companies which were not involved in the strike.

The Taft-Hartley Act's bearing on this matter is uncertain. That law prohibits secondary boycotts. When it is strengthened, the right of a union to bring negotiating pressure to bear on employers other than those it is bargaining with should be cleared up.

The Same Acheson

DEAN ACHESON, who once gave promise of being a first-rate secretary of state if he could discipline his own brilliant mind, has come up with another gem of sarcasm.

People like Senator Taft who reserve the right to take another look at things from time to time are "re-examinists," he sneers. They are not to be trusted, therefore. They cannot make up their minds.

This is the same Acheson speaking who once said officially, unofficially and in every other way that Uncle Sam would not ditch a whisker in defense of Korea. He presumably has re-examined that proposition since last June. He also must have re-examined his equally fatuous statements about China. No one holds it against Mr. Acheson that he was dead wrong on these matters. No one holds it against him that he seemed inclined at first to put loyalty to Alger Hiss above loyalty to the government he had taken an oath to serve. He has a right to his opinions, even when they seem to be wrong.

What is wearing out his welcome as the highest-ranking cabinet official is his arrogance. He claims a monopoly of personal competence. That sort of thing doesn't command any confidence in foreign policy after Yalta, which has a historic overdose.

Mr. Acheson's right to be wrong is inalienable, but he has worn out the privilege of exercising it at the expense of confidence in government.

Government Studies Price, Wage Controls

WASHINGTON
GOVERNMENT policy makers are aware that inflation is already here and that unless it is stopped it can wreck the economy, destroy the defense mobilization program and give our enemies a bloodless victory.

On the consumer level, the American housewife watches the almost daily rise in the cost of living. She feels that her family dollars are being priced out of existence.

Prices and wages are, of course, the key factor in the whole problem.

To paraphrase Mark Twain's comment on the weather, everybody talks about high prices but nobody does anything about them.

Washington is just beginning to try, but the efforts thus far have gone scarcely beyond the talking and planning stage.

"Stand-by" machinery has been set up for the imposition of wage and price controls as needed.

But the measures contemplated thus far fall far short of the immediate firm, all-out controls urged by Bernard Baruch as a step toward total mobilization.

Indeed, Washington seems to be approaching the whole problem with grave misgivings, fearful of upsetting the delicate balances of the national economy.

As government officials see it, the problem is to curb inflation through some form of controls but without putting the economy into a strait jacket.

They see potential dangers either way—with too much control or with too little.

THEREFORE, it is becoming increasingly evident that the government will invoke all-out compulsory controls only as a last resort.

The present attitude, the planners say, is to exhaust all lesser measures first.

The official attitude was summed up succinctly by Alan Valentine, head of the newly-created Economic Stabilization Agency, which is empowered to control prices and wages:

"Inflation has been going on for some years, and has long worried a great many people. Its dangers are now so obvious that nearly everyone wants the government to do something about inflation, provided that what is done does not involve him in any personal sacrifice or inconvenience."

"The nation seems agreed that inflation in general must not be permitted to go farther. The only disagreements are about the nature, extent, incidence and timing of controls."

There is talk in Washington today of "voluntary" controls, indirect and direct controls and "selective controls."

"Selective controls" would be imposed on specific industries, as and when needed.

The difficulty here, however, is that once controls are slapped on any major industry while other industries are left free, chaos may result.

As one realistic government official privately expressed it:

"Once you put controls on any basic industry, there will be an avalanche. I don't see how controls on all industries affected could be avoided. In final analysis, that means controls straight across the board."

As far as the public is concerned, the whole idea seems to be to try persuasion and exhortation first, then firmer measures as needed.

Efforts will be made to convince people of the necessity of self-imposed discipline, caution and some willingness to sacrifice. If that doesn't work, compulsory controls, with their inevitable headaches, will be in order.

AMONG FIRST STEP measures now being tried are credit restrictions in housing and installment buying. Further controls along these lines may be expected, so that from a credit standpoint alone it will become increasingly difficult for the average person to buy a house, furnishings, automobiles, radios and television sets.

As for the effectiveness of voluntary measures, Valentine noted that the psychology of a Pearl Harbor is lacking now, and added:

"Many Americans are not yet ready to make real personal sacrifice in the war against inflation. Must Alaska or Greenland be in enemy hands before many Americans recognize our danger and act accordingly?"

Valentine defined direct controls as price and wage fixing; that is, freezing of wages and ceilings on prices.

Since wages and prices go hand in hand and one cannot be controlled without the other, the government has also set up a Wage Stabilization Board.

It is headed by Cyrus S. Ching, the veteran labor mediator, who said he would not even hazard a guess on the prospect of wage freezes in the future.

CHING EXPLAINED that his board's job is to study the whole wage situation, with a view of stabilization through agreement or some such formula.

Under the present defense act he said that when prices are controlled wages must also be stabilized. The board has no authority to control wage levels, but can only make recommendations to Valentine's board, the administrative agency.

How wages are to be treated will depend, therefore, on the effect of price controls.

What happens in the steel industry, for instance, may affect the whole picture. Steel workers are demanding a new round of wage increases.

The government is watching closely whether the increases, if granted, will be absorbed by the industry without a corresponding price increase.

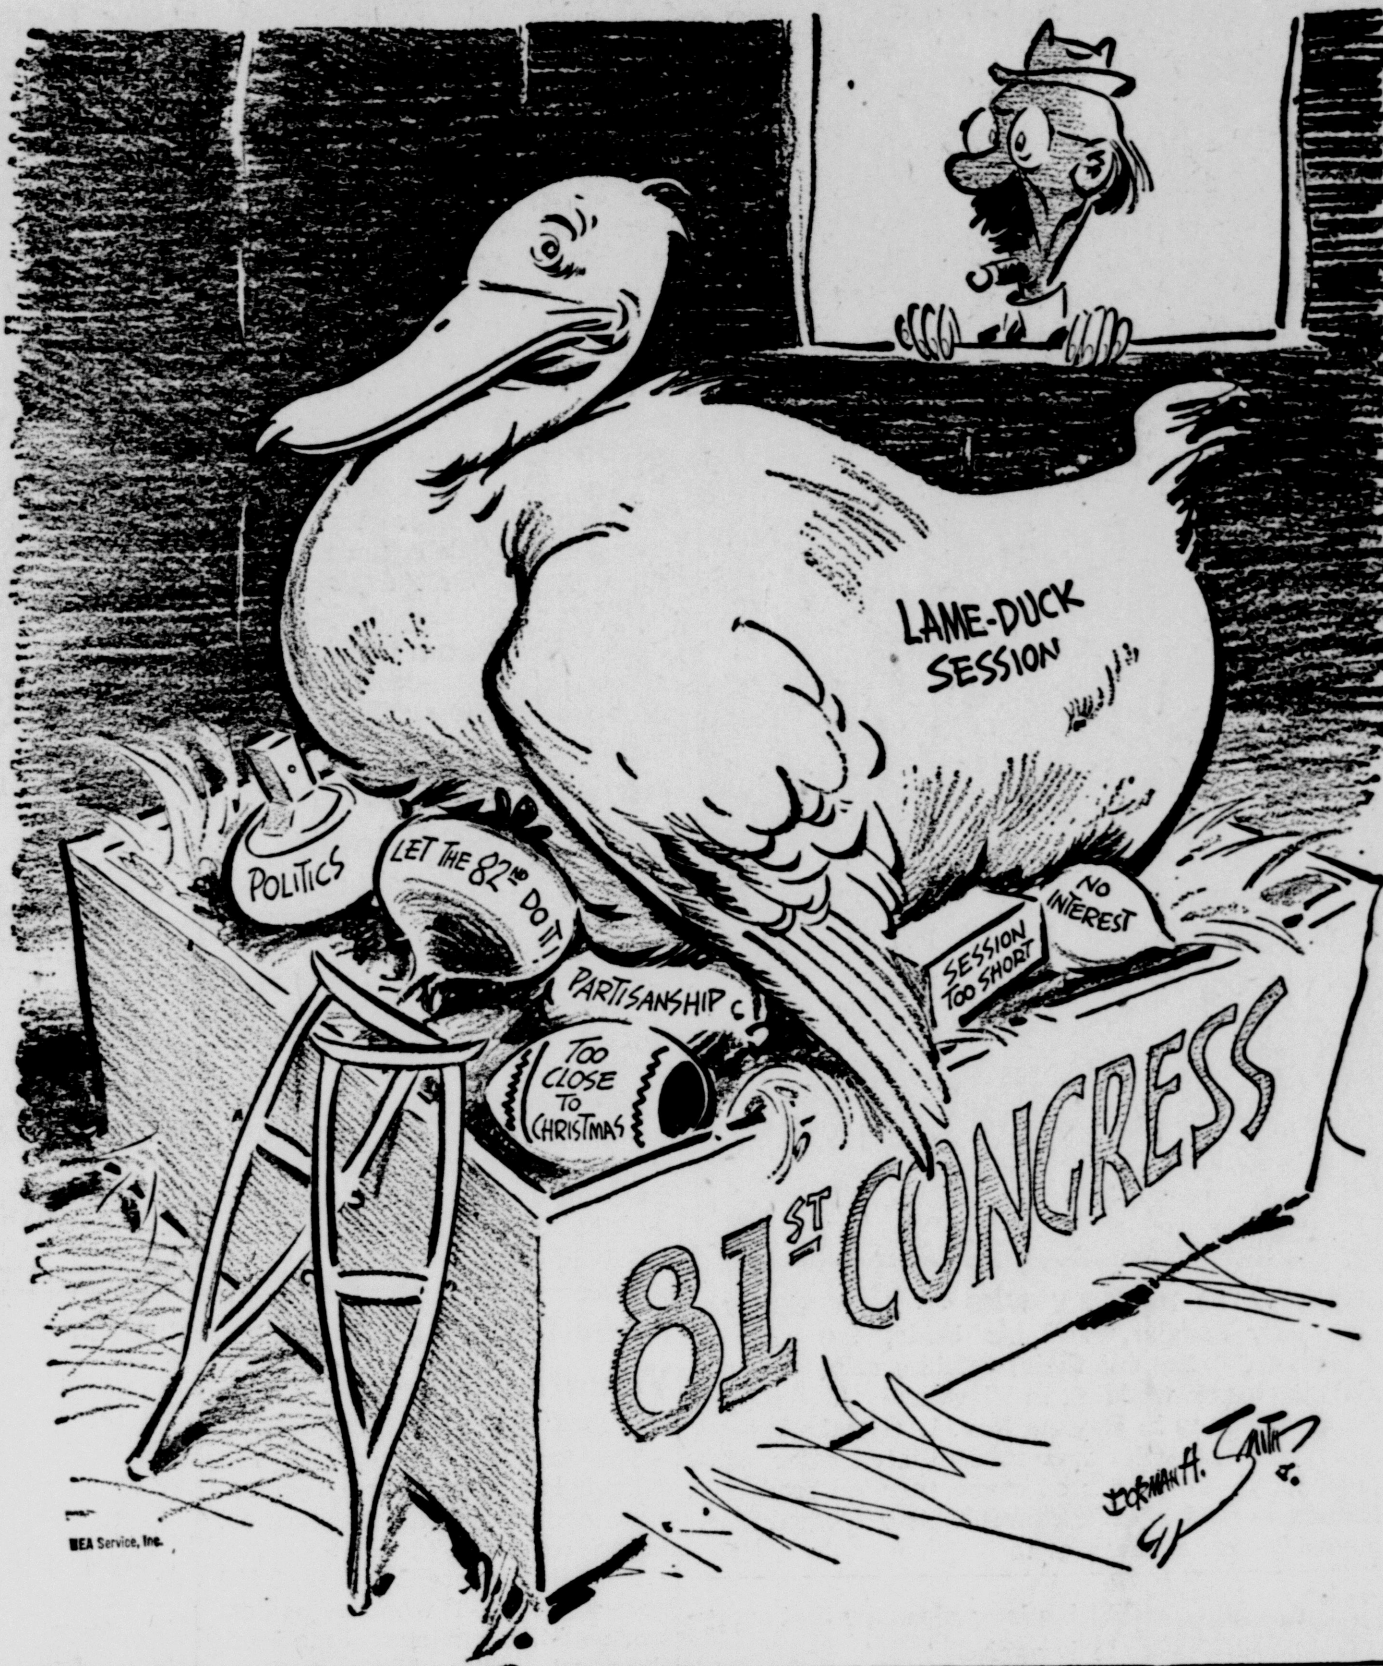

There seems little likelihood that steel will do any such thing. Eugene Grace, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, is on record as saying that any wage increase must be passed on to the consumers. Other steel spokesmen, including U.S. Steel's Benjamin Fairless, have expressed a similar attitude.

Steel is a key industry which plays a vital role in the national economy and in the mobilization program. Government spokesmen are known to be hoping that steel can be "persuaded" to absorb a new wage increase without raising prices.

Otherwise, the government may step in and impose price controls on steel. That may start a chain reaction. A showdown with steel is expected in the near future.

One Really Can't Expect Very Much, You Know

Public Policy Needs Re-examination

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
WHILE Secretary of State Acheson has a fine legal mind and is a man of genuine integrity, he has a blind spot on things political, including the probable reaction of Congress to his public statements.

If the secretary had had any experience in political combat or debate, he never would have exposed himself to counter attack by commenting flippantly about his critics being no longer isolationists but "re-examinists."

In the first place, it is highly desirable that any public policy should be re-examined at any time to see if it is satisfactory to the people. Nobody can object to constant examination or re-examination, especially of such an important matter as foreign policy, which is supposed to be the concern of all parties, irrespective of politics.

In the second place, Mr. Acheson has just been the target of considerable attack in a campaign in which several Democrats lost their seats in Congress because of the voters' severe criticism of our foreign policy.

Immediately after an election it is usually considered tactful and discreet not to pour salt on the wounds of the defeated, much less to give aid and comfort to the victors who have used an issue successfully at the polls.

THERE IS IN CONGRESS a growing opposition to the Secretary of State among members of the Democratic party. This was no time, therefore, for him to lash out on the offensive, satisfying though it may have been to his inner feelings or emotions. Naturally, Mr. Acheson is getting sick and tired of what he believes to be a series of unjust attacks on him personally by the critics. But the rules of behavior in public life necessitate some concern also for the feelings of those Democrats who have just been through a gruelling campaign.

Likewise, it is probably quite satisfactory to the Republicans to have the Secretary of State adopt a defiant course toward critics of his foreign policy. It postpones the formulation of any bipartisan policy and tends to stiffen the Republicans, too many of whom would probably be glad to go it alone if that's what the Secretary of State has in mind.

All this comes at a time when international relations are tense and when our Far Eastern policy is in a state of flux. It needs re-examination every day. Several months ago it was thought that, by appointing Messrs. Dulles and Cooper to high posts in the government, the bipartisan idea would be strengthened. Experience shows that, no matter how many former senators are appointed to the executive department, the senators and representatives who are actually in the Congress decide for themselves the extent to which they will go along with foreign policies made by the Department of State.

THERE IS REALLY only one way by which Mr. Acheson can bring about a spirit of real cooperation. It is by inviting in his most severe critics and sitting down together with them repeatedly. The perfunctory "bipartisan" type of conference, called once in a while, will not achieve satisfactory results. The Republicans have complained that they are usually called in after commitments and decisions are made and that they are then asked to ratify them.

It would be much more effective from the administration's viewpoint, and certainly less likely to permit partisan politics to envelop the subject, if the Secretary of State consulted directly with the leaders of both parties in the Senate and the House. It is a task that cannot be delegated. By keeping a record of what happens in these conferences, the Secretary will be in a position to inform the public later on what has been done toward the evolution of our foreign policy by both parties.

The initiative in discarding partisanship has to come from the administration, however, and it has to be wholehearted. Speeches ridiculing "re-examinists" will do more harm than good.

A Pleasing Sight In Korea

KOREA

A WOMAN should go to war. It can make her feel 10 to 12 years younger. And she can come away feeling pleasantly spoiled.

A woman is an oddity—and apparently a pleasant one—to the foot soldier going up to the front. She may look like a potato sack tied in the middle. But if she wears bright lipstick and a big smile the wolf calls and whistles from 18- and 20-year-old men will make her feel like a real life pin-up girl.

And it doesn't hurt her vality—even if she should have to run for miles around tables to keep away from colonels with glints in their eyes.

But there is another side of it, too. Instead of making her feel 10 years younger, war can make her feel 60 years older.

She rides in a jeep slithering at five miles an hour through a mud-sheathed road. It's lined on both sides by infantrymen. She can tell they are weary by the way their backs are bent.

AS THEY PLOD along through mud, some are bent more than others, depending on the burden they carry. It may be a new 3.5 inch bazooka, a box of ammunition, a machine gun, or a mortar base plate.

She feels ashamed riding in the jeep while they slog along on foot. She hunches her shoulders and pulls down her helmet. She looks at the soldiers out of the corners of her eyes, not daring to look them square in the face.

Her jeep gathers speed as it leaves the infantry behind and she sits upright again. The jeep takes her to a town which has just been knocked out by artillery and air strikes.

She was cold. But now she is warmed by the heat from the burning houses and smouldering rubble.

She is comforted by the thought there is no enemy alive here—unless he could live in hell.

With this thought in mind, she decides to look her womanly best when she passes the infantry again on the return trip. She edges her lips, pushes off her helmet and lets her hair blow in the breeze.

This time the infantrymen see her, all right. And she knows it.

AT FIRST they don't believe it. Then smiles break the crusts of dirt around the corners of their mouths. They whistle and wise crack—real American style.

"Hey, a woman! And she's a woman! And she's white, too."

"Say, baby, what were you doing up there, anyway? Trying to get killed or something?"

She yells back and then: "Hey, what the hell kind of an army is this getting to be? Do we get women, too?" "Hey, baby, wanta share my dinner with me?" calls another, waving a can of beans. "Hey, baby, what's it like up forward?"

She wants to get out and talk to them. She wants so much to march with them. She wants to do something to help lighten their burdens. But she can't.

She just laughs at their jokes, wise cracks back at them, hopes they don't see the tears streaming down her face, and feels truly young again.

Vita-mizing makes absolutely certain that the beer . . . whenever you buy it . . . will have the same BREWERY FRESH flavor that it had when the brewmaster approved it for bottling.

If you've ever visited a brewery and tasted a quality beer just before bottling, you've had that rare privilege of finding out just how delicious beer can really be. But now that privilege, reserved previously to brewmasters and the favored few, is available to all. Yes, Old Lager, a blend of the choicest grains, now comes to you BREWERY-FRESH! Your very first sip of this ALL-NEW, ALL-GRAIN beer will convince you that here is a remarkable improvement in bottled beers. It's far superior to the finest premium beer you've ever sampled. Try OLD LAGER . . . the new, Vita-mized OLD LAGER . . . TODAY!

We're using an entirely new formula . . . new, finer ingredients in the making of the new OLD LAGER. Everything is new but the fine, old name.

There's more life . . . more zest . . . more flavor in Vita-mized OLD LAGER than in any other beer I've ever tasted. And believe me, I've tried them all.

Anyone will tell you that a 100% all-grain beer is the only kind to buy if you want real flavor. That's the new OLD LAGER beer, plus Vita-mizing.

Travelers Club Hears Talk
On Israel By Noted Writer

ARRIVING AT TEL AVIV, ISRAEL, in their African Cruise program, members of the Travelers club held a delightful tea Tuesday afternoon in the public library assembly room.

Mrs. Helen Waterhouse of the Akron Beacon-Journal, who flew to Israel within the past few months, guest speaker, was presented by Mrs. Matthew H. Mawhinney, president.

The republic of Israel, created in 1948, occupies the major portion of Palestine, the Holy Land. It lies on the western edge of Asia bordering on the Mediterranean sea.

With the establishment of the new State, all restrictions on Jewish immigration which had been in effect during British rule were abolished and during the first year, Israel received 220,000 immigrants. These immigrants come from all parts of the world, according to Mrs. Waterhouse, who has written outstanding feature stories on this newest state in the world. Her topic was "Will The Experiment Work?"

"Israel is a country of extreme contrasts—there are very rich people there and very poor people too" the newspaper woman said.

The speaker described Tel Aviv as a city with heavy traffic (all sorts of conveyances) and dangerous street crossings. The hotel where she stayed only had hot water two hours a day.

The breakfast menu included a slice of tomato, a slice of cucumber, a white yolk egg and dark bread but no toast. The women wear cotton dresses and the men shorts. You cannot buy good clothing.

Mrs. Waterhouse "guided" the travelers to many of the towns mentioned in the life of Jesus. Nazareth, boyhood home of the Christ, is now completely populated by Arabs, although they have a Jewish ruler.

However, the Jews and Arabs are in perfect harmony. They have an institution similar to a clearing house where their work is allotted. The church built over Christ's tomb is guarded by a German priest.

In the opinion of Mrs. Waterhouse the greatest problem in this new state is the difference in religion between the Jews. "The old type Jew follows in the line of the Old Testament, while the other group do not have any religion at all," she avers.

In 1946 the reporter covered the European scene on a special assignment for the Beacon-Journal. She made a tour which took her through France, Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Yugoslavia and Greece.

"Paris was far more gay and carefree than when I was there in '46, like the old pre-war Paris. No one seemed to worry about war or status of the world," she said.

A lovely autumn arrangement flanked by yellow candles centered the tea table. Hostess committee included Mrs. F. M. Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Edith Bowles, Mrs. G. R. Deming, Mrs. Myra Erwin, Mrs. C. D. Harris, Mrs. E. S. Kerr, Mrs. L. P. Metzger, Mrs. Charles McCorkhill, Mrs. H. A. Tolerton, Mrs. H. W. Young, Mrs. Jack Harroff and Miss Mary Wolcott.

The next meeting is Nov. 28.

double-ring ceremony following a musical prelude played by Miss Helen Crowl. She used the traditional wedding marches.

Mr. Hawk gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was created of white satin and net with a lace redingote and her strand of pearls was a gift from the groom. She wore a fingertip veil of net held in place by a bonnet of lace. Made of white roses, her bouquet was showered with ribbon.

Miss Rhoda Hawk was her niece's maid of honor. Miss Jeanie Hawk served her sister as bridesmaid. They wore matching frocks of taffeta in green and yellow, respectively. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

John Wang was best man and George Hawk, brother of the bride, was usher. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hawk wore navy blue and white. The groom's mother was dressed in navy blue and gold. Their matching corsages were of white carnations.

Approximately 60 relatives and friends attended the wedding reception. Refreshments included a tiered wedding cake.

When the bride left on a honeymoon trip, to Niagara Falls, she was dressed in green. She used grey accessories and wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

The bride graduated from Minerva High school. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Woolf of North Georgetown and was graduated from Goshen Union High school.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Woolf will reside in the Georgetown-East Rochester district.

Mrs. C. H. Waldron of Homewood ave spent Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

Audience To Meet
Concert Artists

THE CONCERT sponsored by the Salem City Hospital auxiliary at 8 Monday, Nov. 27, in the Methodist church will be a departure from the usual musical affair for the audience will meet the artists later in an informal reception.

Final plans for the concert and reception were made Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Anthony Woina, show producer, on the New Garden rd. Refreshments will be served at the reception.

The auxiliary members, with Mrs. Carl Willman, president, planned the benefit to further their year's project which includes the refurbishing of the nurses home and the advancement of welfare of the student nurses.

The medical association, its auxiliary, nurses alumnae, the hospital staff, trustees and board, with the music clubs of the city are all cooperating in the presentation of the concert. Featured will be the violin, harp and piano.

Mrs. Vesta King reported on ticket sales. The decorating committee includes Mrs. Glenn Harding and Mrs. Nate Walken. Mrs. Curtis Vaughan and Mrs. Homer Taylor head the usher committee.

Will Be Wed Tonight

Miss Mary Lou McQuoun of Mineral Ridge and Charles Pepper of Texas will be married at 6 tonight in the First Federated church, North Jackson, by the pastor, Rev. Louis Raymond. The double-ring ceremony will be used. Custom of open church will be observed.

Auxiliary Has Social

Marybelle Watson Becomes
Bride Of William E. Schenk

MISS MARYBELLE WATSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Watson of R. D. 1, Beloit, and William E. Schenk, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schenk of Beloit, were married at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the East Goshen Friends church.

The altar was decorated with the traditional greenery and lighted by candles. Rev. Howard Moore, pastor, heard the exchange of vows.

Mrs. John Hendershot played the love melodies and Mrs. Floyd Phillips was vocalist for the musical prelude.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white brocade satin train. A tiara of brocade satin held her finger-tip veil in place. She wore pearls, the groom's gift, and carried a bouquet of white roses and chrysanthemums.

Miss Ruth Watson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gowned in gold-colored taffeta with a harmonizing head-dress. She carried bronze mums and yellow pompons.

Alfred Boss, Jr. of Sugarcreek, cousin of the groom, was best man. Clarence W. Watson and Lynn Wyss acted as groomsmen.

Mrs. Watson, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue dress, while Mrs. Schenk, mother of the groom, was costumed in green with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The wedding reception was at

Smith grange hall. A traditional wedding cake graced the refreshment table. For traveling the bride wore a grey suit, used green accessories and wore a corsage of white roses. The couple will reside with Mr. Schenk's parents.

Mrs. Schenk was graduated from the Sebring High school and is employed in the Strong Mfg. Co., Sebring. Graduating from the Beloit High school, the groom is now employed by the Beloit Milling Co.

Movies are BETTER than ever!

"WHAT D'YA MEAN... MORE PAYLOAD?"

DODGE
"Job-Rated" trucks
GIVE IT TO YOU!

IT'S A MATTER OF better weight distribution

You can haul more payload than ever in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck, because the load is better distributed. Most trucks carry too much of the load on the rear axle—too little on the front. Because the engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is moved forward and the front axle back, both axles carry the right proportion of the load. That means you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

NOT THIS The payload on most trucks—like the girl in this boat—rides too far to the rear. Result: there's too much weight aft, not enough forward.

BUT THIS In "Job-Rated" trucks, the load is moved forward—as the girl is now positioned. Results: proper weight distribution—bigger payloads—easier handling.

U. Of Cincinnati Accepts Sun Bowl Invite

Will Meet West Texas State; Wilberforce In Miami Bowl

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22—(AP)—Football-happy Ohio will have a chance to mastermind at least two Buckeye college teams in bowl games this winter.

With dramatic suddenness, both Wilberforce State College and the University of Cincinnati were tendered official bids to play in post-season games — Wilberforce at the Orange Blossom Bowl and UC at the Sun Bowl. And just as suddenly, the bids were accepted.

That both colleges had been approached was known Monday. But Wilberforce was only one of six colleges being felt out to play Florida A. and M. on Dec. 2 in the annual blossom classic at the Miami Orange Bowl and the Bearcats were in pretty much the same fix.

Miami University's Redskins, the Oxford, O., team that UC will play in a traditional game Saturday, had been approached for the Sun Bowl, too. Yesterday, it was made known that four other colleges had been sounded out for the contest.

Coach Sid Gillman just yesterday shrugged off a query about Cincinnati's bowl bid chances by repeating his main headache was the coming Miami game. Bowl games could wait, Gillman indicated.

So the late afternoon announcement that same day by M. Charles Mileham of UC was unexpected, to say the least.

Mileham, the school's athletic director, simply said the 'Cats had accepted an invitation to play West Texas State at the El Paso, Texas, Sun Bowl location on Jan. 1.

He added that Cincinnati's financial take for playing in the Sun Bowl will be "considerably more" than the Bearcats were guaranteed before. He would give no figures, but said it would "certainly" exceed $12,000.

WEST TEXAS, the Border Conference champion with six straight victories under its belt, also accepted the Sun Bowl nod yesterday, although it was almost a cinch the Buffaloes were going to be one of the teams.

Cincinnati has been around before. It won a Sun Bowl fracas against Virginia Tech 18-6 in 1947. But no West Texas State team ever made a post season bowl appearance before this year. UC has won eight and dropped two, with Miami still on the agenda. The two colleges the Bearcats couldn't plow under were Kentucky, now dated No. 3 team in the country by the Associated Press, and William and Mary. They lost to W. and M. 20-14, mostly through awkwardness that day.

Pick All-County Team Friday

Coaches To Meet In Lisbon To Vote

The seven coaches of Columbiana County's high school football teams will gather in Lisbon Friday night to pick the 1950 All-County grid team.

The group will include Ben Barrett of Salem, Bud Bucher of Lisbon, Wade Watts of East Liverpool, Chuck Sell of Wellsview, Bob Gibson of Leetonia, Jim Hall of Columbiana, Howard Parker of East Palestine.

It will be Parker's last time to participate in the choosing of the All-County eleven, since he recently submitted his resignation as football mentor of the Bulldogs.

This will mark the fifth consecutive year the coaches have selected the mythical team. The practice was begun in 1946 after years of disputes over the selections made by the various county newspapers. The decisions of the coaches are now accepted as official in each community.

In 1949, eight juniors made the first and second All-County teams. They include Fritz Roth of Salem, end; Tom Pekarchick of Lisbon, guard; Harold Stanley of East Liverpool, back; Jim Callahan of Salem, back; all first team choices.

Vince Citino of Leetonia, tackle; Don Loutzenhiser of Salem, center; Bob Sullivan of East Liverpool, back; second teamers.

Those eight will merit special consideration Friday night. Also to be chosen is the annual "Coach of the Year," the leading candidate for which is probably Edwin "Bud" Bucher of Lisbon, whose team was unbeaten in nine games.

The meeting will be held in the Lisbon Eagles home. Announcement of the teams picked will be made Monday.

GENERAL MANAGER Roy Hamley of the Pittsburgh Pirates is shown at Pittsburgh, as he packed personal papers in his office after his appointment as assistant general manager of the New York Yankees.

Shotton May Retain Post

Marion Likely Choice For Cardinal Job

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—(AP)—Paging Burt Shotton, Bill Meyer and Marty Marion! Stand by for a phone call. You look like the best bet for the three open big league managing jobs.

This is no exclusive, no "it was learned" story. Just the best gossip available after talking to a couple of men who should know.

Shotton seems to be in the strongest position of the three. It is expected his reappointment as Brooklyn Boss will be announced as soon as the football teams vacate a sports page headline.

WHEN BRANCH Rickey sold out his Dodger stock, it was taken for granted Shotton, a Rickey man, would not be back. Now it seems that was wrong.

Unless there is a storm of protest from the Dodger customers, Burt probably will be back for another term.

Chuck Dressen, a Brooklyn coach under Leo Durocher, is a Dodger possibility. It is reported he has strong support from one of the new Dodger vice presidents.

Pee-Wee Reese, the popular Dodger shortstop, probably is the manager of the future. Reluctance to combine playing full time and managing, plus a loyalty to Shotton is likely to delay Pee-Wee's debut until 1952 or later.

In Pittsburgh, Rickey still is making up his mind about Meyer. The skipper from Knoxville

Tribe Releases Coach Mellilo

Boudreau Aid Goes; Mel Harder To Stay

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22—(AP)—Coach Oscar Mellilo, a long time friend and confidant of Lou Boudreau, won't be around when the Cleveland Indians start work next season.

The club said yesterday that Al Lopez, who replaced Boudreau as manager, was releasing the first base mentor but that Mel Harder, another coach, would be retained.

No indication was given on the future of the team's other two coaches, Harold (Muddy) Ruel and Al Simmons.

Hank Greenberg, general manager, said "Lopez and I haven't discussed the coaching situation completely, but he did ask to keep Harder."

Mellilo had been a coach for the Tribe in six of the years since 1939 and a scout in 1948.

Harder pitched for Cleveland for 20 years and has coached the last three.

Greenberg said he was continuing his efforts to strengthen the Indians through a trade.

"Everybody's interested in Larry Doby," he declared. "I think even the Yankees would like to get him, but we'll not let him go."

still has another year to go on his contract. After a conference with Rickey, Billy went home knowing little more than when he arrived.

INSIDERS AT Pittsburgh say Meyer has a 60-40 chance of returning. Lou Boudreau, deposed Cleveland manager, has the best chance of the others.

Rickey has talked business with Boudreau with the managing job in view. Boudreau undoubtedly will accept if Rickey decides to make a change.

Fred Saigh still is going through his list of candidates for the St. Louis job vacated by Eddie Dyer. An original field of 18 is being narrowed day by day.

Marion, often mentioned by Saigh as a potential managerial timber, is believed to have the inside track. A personable athlete with natural leadership qualities, Marty is definitely bound for a career as a manager. Whether it will be with the Cardinals in 1951, is up to Saigh.

Penn State leads Syracuse in their football series which dates back to 1922, by 12 victories to 11. Five games were tied.

Little League baseball, embracing 16,000 boys in 28 states, was organized 11 years ago at Williamsport, Pa., by Carl E. Stotz.

Of the 135 players who played in the pro loop when it started operations in 1946, only 18 are still active in the National Basketball Association this season.

Motley, Van Brocklin Lead NFL Offense

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22—(AP)—Marion Motley of the Cleveland Browns and Norm Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams are two good reasons why their respective clubs are setting the pace in the National Football League title race.

Statistics announced today show that Motley for the second straight week in leading the league in yards gained by rushing.

Van Brocklin retained his hold on the loop's passing honors.

Motley, who took over the rushing last week, added to his margin over the number two man in that department, Frank Zeigler of the Philadelphia Eagles. Motley picked up 123 yards last Sunday to bring his 10-game total to 746 yards.

Motley also has the best average—a healthy six yards every time he toted the pigskin. Zeigler gained 578 yards on 123 tries for 4.7 average.

Van Brocklin raised his passing gain average from last week's 9.28 yards to 9.39 to hold onto top spot in the tossing division. He has attempted 179 and completed 94, good for 1680 yards and 14 touchdowns.

Horace Gillom of Cleveland retained punting honors with an average of 43.6 per boot. Fred Morrison of the Bears is second with an average of 43.1.

Others who topped 550 were: Brad Akens, 579; Bill Kring, 566; Gordon Scott, 564.

Strikes to Spare

Members of the Salem Women's Bowling Association elected delegates to the 1951 state and national bowling conventions at a meeting in the East Palestine Eagles hall last week.

Lois Longanecker of Washingtonville was named delegate to the national convention in Seattle, Washington, on May 28 and 29.

Dorothy Brown of East Palestine, president, Vivienne Wilt, secretary and Helen Caldwell of Salem will represent the Salem Association at the state convention in Cincinnati on March 11.

The Salem group is composed of 325 woman bowlers from East Palestine, Washingtonville, Leetonia, Columbiana and Salem.

Chuck Huffer of the Diner led the American Section of the Quaker City loop Monday, carding a 605 set. Close behind was Oscar Calvin of the Bowling Center, who had a 603 (246). Bob Sell of Sell's Service collected a 593 series for a third place.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

• Year after year the most confused sports fan in the world is the basketball follower, who sometimes has difficulty recognizing his game during the first few games of the season. That's because of the yearly changes made by the rules committees, which alter the cage sport.

• This season is no exception. The men with the blue pencils have been at it again. So that you won't be caught booing at the wrong time next month, here are a few of the major changes made in basketball rules this year:

• Teams may not substitute after a basket is made. Time is NOT out at that point anymore. They may send in new men only during a regular time out, during the course of a jump ball or before a free throw.

• The old "two minute" rule at the end of the game has been abolished, and good riddance. There is no longer an officials' time out in the second and fourth periods. All special rules for the last few minutes have been eliminated.

• Last year, you will recall, time was called during the final two minutes everytime the ball was dead. It strung out the period to a point where it sometimes took 10 minutes to play the last two.

• Time will be out for every jump ball, throughout the entire game, this year. This has been done to avoid abuses formerly taken care of by the two minute rule, to take some pressure off the officials in a close game and to provide an additional opportunity for entry of a substitute.

• A player committing a foul must acknowledge the ball by raising a hand to the scoring bench. Failure to do so will result in a technical foul being called. This rule was not mandatory last year.

• Rules makers hasten to point out that the player must raise his hand in a "gentlemanly manner." In other words, he shall not raise said hand to the nose.

• A two-shot free throw shall be awarded when a foul is committed without reasonable effort to avoid contact. This is designed to discourage a player from trading a free throw for a chance to get the ball after the free throw late in a tight game.

• Such fouls include any intentional foul, any flagrant foul, any foul in which a thrower is contacted from the rear and any other foul in which a player is careless in making contact from such position that he has little chance to reach the ball (as in a last minute pressing defense).

• Most officials are in agreement with the changes outlined above, save for the "time out for jump balls" change. They complain this will lengthen the game up to 15 minutes.

• So, that's it. Study these and some other minor changes, not mentioned here, and you'll be back in stride with the game of basketball.

Pick-Up Detail

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 22—(AP)—Army cadets continued their mop-up operations today after being bombed with 20,000 unwanted invitations to the Princeton-Dartmouth football game yesterday.

Four Princeton students hired a private plane so they could dump the leaflets on Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H. But icy conditions forced the plane back. Rather than waste the invitations to "an Indian massacre," they let them loose over West Point.

"We got a big kick out of the thought of those cadets having to pick up all that paper," a member of the anonymous quartet said.

Saxons Play Here

The Salem Saxon men's and girls' basketball teams, soundly thumped in their first games of the season last Saturday, will play at home again Saturday evening against Monaca, Pa.

The men were bumped last week by the Canton Saxons 78-56, trailing all the way. The girls were limited to two field goals in losing to the Canton females 32-4.

The games are played at 7 and 8 p. m. Saturday at the Memorial building.

Power boat racers will seek records and prizes over a new course in Miami's Biscayne Bay in the Orange Bowl Regatta, Dec. 31.

Harold Boswell, 190-pound guard on the University of Arizona freshman football team, wears glasses and a protective face guard on the field.

Thanksgiving

The Pilgrims of 1621
They had so little
Yet they found it
In their hearts
To give Thanks
For what they had.

We Americans of 1950
We have so much
We, too,
Give Thanks
For what we have.

We have Freedom...
God's richest gift
And today
The lingering hope
Of the oppressed
In other lands.
We live Freedom
In our shops
And offices
And plants
On our farms
And in our homes.

For that Freedom
We give thanks.

We have Courage...
To defend
The cause
Of Freedom
"With our lives
Our fortunes
And
Our sacred honor."

For that Courage
We give thanks.

We have Memories...
We do not forget
American bravery
And sacrifice
At Valley Forge
Tripoli
The Alamo
Gettysburg
San Juan Hill
The Argonne
Normandy Beaches
Iwo Jima
And
Korea.
For those Memories
We give thanks.

We have Faith...
In God
In Nations
In Man
And in ourselves.
For that Faith
We give thanks.

We have Hope...
That the United Nations
Will unite
All the Peoples
Of God's world
In everlasting
Peace.
For that Hope
We give thanks.

We have the Bell
The Liberty Bell
Whose inspiring
Chimes
Now echo on Foreign shores
And whose
Song of Freedom
Is drowning out

The bloody dirge
Of Communism.
For that Bell
We give thanks.

We have Unity...
That amazes
And confuses
Our enemies.
Though we may Disagree
Among ourselves
On many things,
At any real threat
To our country
Or to our Freedom
Our differences
Are set aside and
A united America
Rises in her
Might.

For that Unity
We give thanks.

We have Wisdom...
To realize that
All our foes
Are not behind
The Iron Curtain

And to know that
There are many
Enemies at home
Who seek Stealthily to Take our freedoms
From us,
From our children
And from our Children's Children.

For that Wisdom
We give thanks.

And so we pray:
Give to us all
The strength
To spread Freedom
Abroad...
To keep Freedom
At home...
To pass Freedom
On to the Next generation
And to unborn
Generations
In a world
At peace.

Kiwanis Hears Ohio Attorney

Rotary Official To Be In Youngstown

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 22—Attorney C. A. Covington, Youngstown civic leader, member of the Youngstown Kiwanis club and secretary of the Mahoning County Bar association, was the speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday evening. He talked on the U.S. constitution and world conditions. "Our constitution," he said, "points out the inalienable rights of individual citizens, and without these freedoms our people would become servants of the state in some other countries." The speaker was presented by Harold Oaks, program chairman.

The club also saw a short colored film describing the disease, muscular dystrophy, shown by Mrs. L. A. Way, local chairman engaged in familiarizing the community with the disease and raising funds for medical research.

Ticket chairman for the Dec. 2 appearance here of the All-American Redhead girls' basketball team reported a good advance sale. Reserved seats are almost sold out.

William K. Stanets, chief engineer of the Enterprise Co. here, was a guest.

ATTORNEY H. W. Hammond, program chairman for the meeting of the Rotary club Monday evening, spoke on "Our International Responsibility," mainly in its relationship to our own problems of free enterprise and government controls. He advocated reduction of all spending except what is needed for defense.

The club viewed the short film on muscular dystrophy, shown by Mrs. L. A. Way, W. K. Hunter of the Youngstown club urged members to attend the inter-city meeting at the Hotel Pick-Ohio in Youngstown next Monday evening when the speaker will be Phil Lovejoy of Chicago, general secretary of Rotary International.

President H. I. Hine of the Salem club was a visitor. Leo Holloway will be program chairman next Monday evening.

E. P. KURTZ assumed his duties Tuesday as the new agent at the Pennsylvania Railroad station here, as successor to the late Minor Lodge. Mr. Kurtz was formerly an agent at New Waterford and was a clerk for some time in the Columbiana station. For the last several years he had been an agent at New Galilee, Pa. where the station was recently abandoned.

National Grange Picks Indiana Farmer

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 22—(AP)—Herschel D. Newsom, Indiana farmer active in the national grange for 35 years, will be installed as master in the finale of the organization's 84th annual meeting here Friday.

Newsom was elected by delegates yesterday to fill the one-year unexpired term of Albert S. Goss, who died in New York last month of a heart attack.

The new master, with his mother and sister, owns and operates a 472-acre farm near Columbus, Ind. He has served as state master of the Indiana grange since 1937 and as head of the national executive committee since last year.

Installation ceremonies also will include Henry P. Carstensen, Seattle, reelected to the executive board, and Dorsey Kirk, Oblong, Ill., named to Newsom's place on the board.

Delegates picked New Jersey as a 1951 meeting place. The board will select the city later. Atlantic City is favored.

Steel Wage-Price Break Anticipated

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—(AP)—The break in the steel industry's wage-price picture may come this week, The Iron Age, metal-working trade weekly, said today.

Negotiations over wages between management and labor heads were described as "hot" by remote control, even though meetings were adjourned.

"One thing is sure," the publication said, "if wages go up steel prices will go up, too."

The Iron Age estimated probable wage increases at 15 to 17 cents an hour, price boosts at $6 to $10 a ton.

"Steel orders of civilian consumers will be cut back 30 to 50 per cent during the first quarter of next year," the trade weekly said.

Damage Heavy In Reno Flood

Divorce Capital Hit By Ramping River

RENO, Nov. 22 — (AP) — A muddy mopping-up job faced this bustling divorce capital today in the wake of the worst flood in its colorful history. But the gaudy gambling halls lost none of their glitter.

Debris-strewn waters of the rain swollen Truckee river have receded. But a 12-hour rampage yesterday through the heart of the city left basements and ground floors flooded or mud-packed.

A preliminary survey by the executive board of the chamber of commerce placed damage at $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. Brokers said probably not more than five per cent was covered by insurance. That's because such a flood in these parts is uncommon. And flood insurance rates are comparatively high, businessmen said.

Reno's previous worst flood, in 1937, caused about one-third the damage.

Crowds thronged downtown last night to inspect the damage, mostly confined to a three-block wide strip through the business section. Most of the main gambling casinos, just outside that area, generally escaped damage.

A large proportion of the flood loss appeared to be in Christmas merchandise stocked in store basements and on display on ground floors.

County Bankers Group Has Panel Discussion

LISBON, Nov. 22—The Columbian County Bankers Association met Tuesday evening in the Christian church, with 65 persons attending.

The meeting included a panel discussion on banking, with James Pritchard, vice president of the society of savings in Cleveland, Louis Wilde, vice president of the Union Bank of Commerce in Cleveland, and Robert Day of Columbus participating.

Mother Of 4 Sets Of Twins Expecting More

WAREHAM, Mass., Nov. 22 — (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lopes have eleven children, including four sets of twins—and are expecting at least another set.

One of their other three children was a twin, but the other of the pair died.

Mrs. Lopes is expecting again—and, says Dr. Raymond Stillman, it will be a "multiple" birth. Mrs. Lopes is 29, her husband 36. He's a road construction worker.

The 20th century did not begin with the year 1900. It began Jan. 1, 1901.

Before they hatch out of the egg, alligators make a loud, squeaking noise that can be heard several yards away.

Slight Unemployment Trend Noted In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—The government reported today a slight rise in unemployment for the first two weeks in November and said the trend is normal for this time of year.

At the same time, however, there were indications that dislocations of the defense program, bringing materials shortages in some civilian industries, are also beginning to be felt.

The Labor Department's bureau of employment security said that initial claims for unemployment insurance—indicating new lay-offs—averaged 186,000 for the first two weeks of this month.

That compared with a weekly average of 155,700 new claims in October and 131,600 in September, the 1950 low month for unemployment so far.

Firemen Extinguish Home And Auto Fires

An overheated furnace in the home of Otto Christensen at 772 W. State st caused the owner to summon the fire department at 8:22 a. m. today. Firemen reported no damage was done to the dwelling.

The upholstery in the front seat of an auto owned by Robert Deeson of 818 Newgarden ave was badly damaged by fire at 10:25 p. m. Tuesday, firemen said.

U. N. Divided On Chinese Charge

Britain Says Probe Would Be Useless

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 22—(AP)—Britain and the United States lined up in opposite camps again today on the question of investigating Nationalist China's charges of Russian aggression. The U.N. assembly's 60-nation political committee, resuming debate on the issue, may decide it before the day is over.

Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang presented his case yesterday. He charged that the Kremlin not only engineered the Chinese civil war, but now has 45,000 agents in China controlling all political, economic and cultural life.

Tsiang proposed that the U.N. set up a fact-finding commission to look into the situation and report back to the assembly next fall. His plan found little support except from the United States, which agreed the problem should be studied by some sort of commission. Russia demanded that the entire question be thrown out as unfit for discussion. Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik said Nationalist China already is headed for the "historic scrap heap."

Britain agreed that it would be useless to inquire into what happened in China. British delegate J. E. Coulson said the facts are not really in dispute and added: "Our opinions won't be changed."

Britain is one of the 17 U.N. members which have recognized Red China. For this reason, she frequently finds herself at odds with the United States on Chinese problems.

Ohio Farm Sales Said To Be About $1 Billion

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22—(UP)—The Ohio development and public relations commission says Ohio farmers will take in nearly $1,000,000,000 from sales of farm products during 1950.

However, the commission said when total receipts are figured they will probably be about the same as in 1949, when receipts amounted to $958,557,300, including $4,121,300 in government payments to farmers.

The figures were compiled by the Ohio State University department of agricultural experiment station.

Truck-Bus Crash At Beaver Falls Hurts 17

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 22—(AP)—A big trailer-truck collided with a city passenger bus today, injuring 17 persons. None of the injured was hurt seriously. Thirteen persons were treated at Providence hospital and released. Four others were hospitalized, including the truck driver, Charles Larimer, 18, of Mercer.

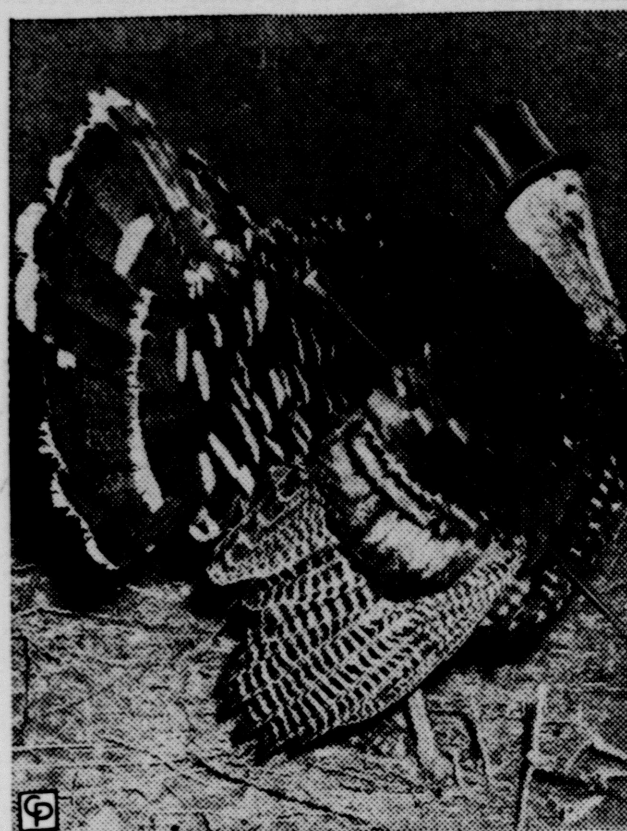

All of the injured suffered shock, cuts and bruises. The crash occurred at the corner of 17th st and Seventh ave, the city's main street, about 6 a. m.

4-Day Vacation Given Public School Pupils

Approximately 3,000 pupils and teachers in the Salem school system will start a four-day vacation Thursday.

In the spirit of the Thanksgiving season many elementary school rooms have been decorated and the children are reading and reciting Thanksgiving stories. Several classes at high school were given special assignments in connection with the annual observance.

Workmen at high school will continue to install the new lockers this weekend for use by the girls gym classes, according to Principal B. G. Ludwig.

$100,000 Alienation Suit Is Dismissed

STEBENVILLE, Nov. 22—Common Pleas Judge John J. Griesinger today dismissed a $100,000 alienation of affections suit filed by the wife of a Chicago candy manufacturer.

The action was by Mrs. June Brach, wife of Frank B. Brach, vice president and treasurer of the E. J. Brach & Sons Candy Co. It was directed at Mrs. Helen Vorhees, a divorcee living in nearby Unionport.

Attorneys representing Mrs. Brach asked for the dismissal and indicated a settlement had been reached in Chicago.

Ice cream, so far as is known, first was made and eaten during the 16th century in Italy.

Gloomy Holiday Seen By Weatherman

Weatherwise, Ohioans will have little cause for Thanksgiving tomorrow. It's going to be a gloomy, cold and rainy holiday.

Highs, similar to today's, will range from near 40 in the north to 40-45 in the south. Forecaster Milton Davis, said, with some occasional rain thrown in for bad measure.

Light rain or snow is expected tonight when the mercury inches its way down a couple of degrees toward the 30-35-degree zone.

"No spectacular changes are anticipated," Davis added, "but there will be sudden, appreciable drops in the mercury tomorrow night—averaging about ten degrees—followed by snow flurries and winds."

wreckage that had slipped down."

A Civil Air Patrol plane from nearby Jackson, Wyo., was to circle the area. A CAP rescue unit headed by Maj. Arthur McCain was to move to the scene with snowmobiles.

The air rescue service at McCord air base, Tacoma, Wash., dispatched a plane carrying a parachute rescue team and a winter-trained land rescue unit. Other groups were standing by at Lowry air base, Denver, and Hamilton field, Calif.

There are no roads leading to the foot of the peak, a barren sentinel standing over the Jackson Hole country at the northern end of the Grand Tetons. All contact had to be maintained by radio in the search area.

In Los Angeles, a mission official, Irving Samuelson, said the plane had been flown only a few hours. He said it was thoroughly checked before it left. The pilots were experienced, he added.

Crew and Passengers

Names of the 21 persons aboard as released by John Garber, secretary of the mission:

Pilots—Sterling Lowery, Watson, Tenn.

Jack Dennis, Richmond, Calif. Robert Crammer, Talent, Ore.

Passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Judge, Portland, Ore., and two daughters, Dianna, 21 months, and Ruth, 6 months.

Mrs. Edna Greiner, Bellwood, Pa., and her five children; Victoria, 8; Dorothy, 7; Nancy, 5; Joann, 4, and John 1.

Harold Freeman, Fresno, Calif. Arthur C. Eltrick, Jr., Inglewood, Calif.

Robert Cook, Baldwin Park, Calif.

Mrs. Donna Wetherald, Baker, Ore., and son, Mark, 7-months. Jack Beach, Portland, Ore. Paul Fleming, Chico, Calif.

Miss Hazel Hanson, Duluth, Minn.

Traffic Violations

Bring Fines To Four

Speeding violations brought fines to three drivers Tuesday while another was arrested for passing at a railroad crossing, state patrolmen said today.

Columbiana Mayor Erwood Calvin fined Daniel J. Cullinan, 35, of Leetonia $20 and costs for speeding on Route 14, near Columbiana. Also fined on a similar charge by Calvin were Ward W. Wheeler, 28, of Akron and Robert W. Petty, 20, of Barberton.

William A. Frazier, 31, of Culpeper, Va., drew $15 and costs in Mayor Kenneth Hiscock's Lisbon court for passing at a railroad crossing on the Salem-Lisbon road.

meter will be placed in a new house, Mr. Koenreich said, until the water works department sees that a curb box and connections are installed.

Council accepted Mr. Koenreich's recommendation that the necessary legislation be drawn up for the collection of delinquent water bills, but detained sanction of a new method of billing customers set up by the commission, pending approval of the trust office.

The new method would bill the consumer a net charge with a 10 percent penalty if not paid within a certain time limit, instead of the present gross billing and granting of a 10 percent discount. The purpose is to facilitate book-keeping, B. V. Bevier, water superintendent stated.

Mr. Bevier also reported that the pouring of 270 cubic yards of concrete for the standpipe being constructed off Highland ave will begin Monday.

Council accepted and ordered complied with a suggestion by Ralph W. Whiteleather, chairman of the lighting committee, that at least three street lights be installed on Highland ave, including one at the Tenth st intersection.

Mr. Whiteleather also reported that his rent control committee will meet with the regional rent director sometime before the next session of council.

ACHESON TO SEE TAFT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today he expects to consult with Republican leaders of Congress, including Senator Taft of Ohio, on foreign policy. He said he had done so in the past and would continue this course.
